

THE DEER LEAP '54

Class Song

Tune: Moonlight in Vermont

From love of Bristol High
On future plans we must rely;
Onward ever bound.

Years have glided by,
Leaving but a memory;
Onward ever bound.

Romances starting, picnics and parties
Rush through our minds as we leave;
Acquaintances starting, lingering and
Darting, fearing we'll not meet again.

Years short lived and past
School days vanished, now at last;
Onward ever bound.
Onward ever bound, embarking now.

Class Poem

OUT OF THE SHALLOW; INTO THE DEEP

Night is approaching
A new day waits us tomorrow.
We must take up our journey,
Restraining our tears and sorrow.

School is but a solid base
For trials as yet we all must face.
We leave these halls but not in haste,
Taking up our anchor--our goals to meet,
Out of the shallow and into the deep.

Dedication

In appreciation for all you have done for us, we, the Senior Class of 1954, dedicate to you, Mr. Comstock, our yearbook, the Deer Leap.

A true education aims to implant a love of knowledge; a reverence for man because he is a man; an enthusiasm for liberty; a spirit of candor, of breadth, of sympathy; and, above all, a supreme regard for duty.

To DICK W., we give this laughing gas, for practice in developing a brand new laugh.
To DOUGY, we give this book of jokes, so you may cheer all kinds of folks.
To WALT, we give this telephone book, so when calling Vergennes you'll need just a brief look.
To CHARLIE H., we give this little gun, because the Hunt proves to be such fun.
To ALDRON, we give this charm of good luck, may it secure your future with a certain "Chuck."
To DICK R., our artist we present this paint brush and book, so you may paint a picture of the girl you will hook.
To RUTH N., we give this attaching cord, to prevent Bill's getting away in his Ford.
To THELMA, the petite blond Bonnie, we give a toy soldier to remind you of "Donnie."
To MADELINE, we give this memory book, so you may keep a list of each man you will hook.
To GILBERT, we give this certificate of marriage form, tell us "Gil" who is it, "Norm?"
To MARY W., we give this trap for a "MOUSE," to keep "Luigi" from sneaking out of the house.
CLAUDE, we give you a gallon of gas, to take you "over the bridge" real fast.
To ARTHUR, the guy who likes to yodel and sing, we give this birdseed, hope it's just the thing.
DONNA, is it true you're "Alabama bound?" Well here's a ticket to the place he'll be found.
To EARNIE, we give this lotion for lovely hands, to use in marriage after washing pots and pans.
To TOM, we present this bottle of soft drink, stick to this brand, it's safer, we think.
To CHARLIE L., we give this perfume so sweet, to attract all the girls when walking the street.
To COLLEEN, we give this writing paper so new, so you may continue writing your man in blue.
(BILL H.) This trumpet we give to BILLY HILL, in the future may you blow it "still."
(MARY D.) To MARY, we give this recipe book, 'cause sooner or later you'll have to cook.
To DUTCH we give this wave set so rare, to keep in place your wavy hair.
To SHIRLEY, we give these elevator shoes of green, so in future years you'll be more easily seen.
To BARB, these dancing slippers so sweet, for she's so light upon her feet.

TO THE TEACHERS

Mr. Breen. We leave him a class almost as "nice," "co-operative," and "accommodating" as the class of '54.
Mr. Comstock. We give a ruler to train each individual to be just as he wants them--similar to individuals of the class of '54.
Mrs. Whitcomb. We give these sedative tablets to soothe her nerves before entering study halls.
Mr. Hoadley. We give a pair of eye glasses so he can appreciate the "SMALLER" things in life.
Mr. Coddington. We leave an extended hand for a warmer acquaintance in years to come.
Mrs. Jimmo. We leave new reformed classes that will be more prompt in bringing absent excuses.
Mrs. Lamont. We leave a Deer Leap Staff as hard working as that of 1954.
Mr. Bourgeois. We leave a pair of stilts so in the future you may over your classes rule.
Miss Small. We leave this baton in order to receive better contact with the Glee Club ("all eyes on me").
Mr. Menkens. The Senior class leaves you a class as enthusiastic as ours for going on to college.
Miss Campbell. We leave a class of boys; eager to learn the finer things of home.
Mrs. Granger. We leave a pair of binoculars, so to spot all offenders of gum chewing more readily.
Mr. O'Bryan. We leave a softball bat to use for a definite purpose when the girls don't bring their gym clothes.

 CLASS TRIP

Class History

By Mary Dalton and Mary Wisell

Name of Ship:	The Lucky '54
Destination:	Port of Graduation
Date of Departure:	September 6, 1942
Date of Arrival:	June 21, 1954
Cargo:	Success

On a crisp fall day in 1942, we journeyed to the island of the first grade. Of the present class of thirty members, nine of them have remained with us through the whole twelve years. They include Barbara Hier, Ruth Nelson, Shirley Purinton, Tommy McKinnon, Jack Tudhope, Billy Hill, Gilbert Partch, Charlie Lafley, Mary Dalton and Mary Wisell. We were guided carefully through our first trying days by Miss Virginia Sargent. The big event of the year was the picnic which was held on the recreation field.

In the second year of our venture, we were greeted by Mrs. Ilene Wright. Madeline Lattrell, Patty McLean, and Esther Hall joined us this year.

On our third year voyage we were gathered up and greeted by many new adventures. There was multiplication which was drilled into our heads by Miss Frances O'Connor. This year we docked at the recreation field for our annual picnic.

Then we sailed up the sea to the fourth grade under the guidance of Mrs. Helen Trombley where we tackled history and geography. We picked up another new crew member on the way, Dickie Rockwood, and also lost one, Maureen Brown, who moved to California.

We started the fifth year of our voyage with Mrs. Frances Gregory at the helm. We stopped in port and picked up Debby Fairchild, Betty Snow and Carolee Scribner. We held a Medieval Fair in the gym in which we all helped in the making of booths. At the end of the year we sailed up to Aldrich's pasture for our picnic.

When we sailed into the sea of the sixth grade, we found some new crew members on board. They were: Claude Brassard, Robert Campbell, Raymond Bigelow, Lawrence Ladue, and Robert Greenier. For our annual picnic, we went to the Fleming Museum in Burlington and then on to Ethan Allen Park. Mrs. Jesse Stanton, our commander this year, let us have one day a week for chewing gum day.

As we sailed through the channel to the seventh grade we began the grind of study halls and home work. Worst of all, we had to get used to having no recesses.

Mrs. Beatrice Whitcomb was at the helm this year. The new crew members this year were Shirley Sumner, Greg Bush, Stella Place, and Colleen and Arthur LaFrance.

This year we climbed the gang plank with confidence and ease as we were used to the high school ways now. For our eighth grade advisor we had Mr. Comstock. Belle Cousino was shipped along with us and also Eileen Cambridge and Jean McEvila. Ruth Murphy joined us after the first half of the grade was completed.

Our Freshman year was quite dreaded because of initiation. It turned out to be quite a bit of fun after all. We were joined this year by many new crew members from surrounding towns. They are: Charles and Walter Hoag, Norma Purinton, Thelma Masterson, Karlene Thompson, Ernestine Cloe, Leona and Donna French, Carroll Douglas, Robert Merrill, Anita Norris, Roddy Cram, Lloyd Thayer, and Ina Mae Besaw. This was our first year of exams. Mr. Comstock was our class advisor, and Mr. Stuart Marshall was the new principal.

The sea was very calm our sophomore year with Mr. Paul Andrews at the helm. To initiate the year, we had a scavenger hunt followed by a record dance. We sailed to Lake Dunmore on our annual class picnic. During the year, we lost Jean McEvila and Marie Lucia in the sea of Matrimony.

Mr. Charles Comstock again took over command. Poor Man! Many times he felt like jumping into the briny deep. We stopped at a port in New Jersey and Kay Dunn climbed aboard. During the year, we sponsored a food sale and dance. Our Junior Prom was sponsored for the crew of the Good Ship '53, and was the best that was ever held at B.H.S. After the Prom we cruised down to Lake Dunmore for a day of fun.

As we began our final voyage in September of '53, we discovered the loss of one of our crew members, Ina Mae Besaw, who had fallen into the sea of Matrimony. Another crew member, Lawrence Ladue, drowned while serving in the Navy, a few days before school began. The senior class attended his funeral as a group.

We sponsored two dances this year and also the Senior play, which was entitled, "Hold Everything." Towards the end of our voyage, we picked up another crew member, Robert Enders from Connecticut.

On June 21, The Lucky '54 docked for the last time. Our thirty crew members look forward to a successful future in peaceful waters.

Class Prophecy

"Out of the shallow; into the deep." The "Lucky '54" has once again begun its departure; we now find Captain Charles Hoag at the helm.

We dock at New York harbor where we find Barb Hier singing at the Latin Quarter, Ruth Nelson working in St. Luke's Hospital, and farther on Charlie Lafley, one of New York's most noted dentists.

Now we travel on to Fort Dix, where we find Colleen La France, Thelma Masterson, Karlene Thompson, Mary Dalton, Ernestine Cloe and Aldron Hunt as devoted wives to their servicemen. Continuing our journey through New York we find none other than Bill Hill at Stonybrook Prep. School.

On to the city of Albany we travel and we find Donna French and Madeline Lattrell as well-applied stenographers.

While dining in Connecticut we meet none other than that brilliant scholar Robert Enders.

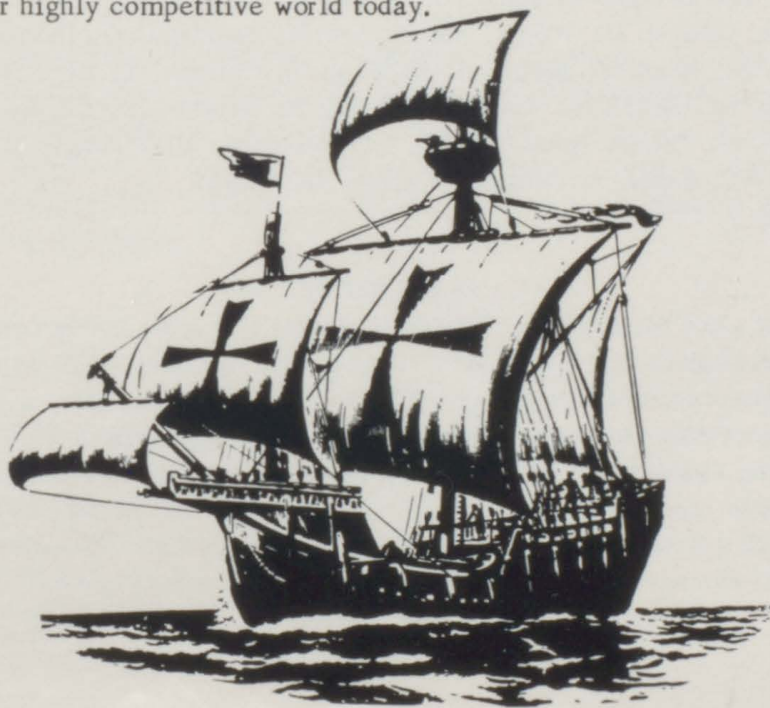

On through to Massachusetts we find that Carolee Scribner and Shirley Purinton have graduated from Becker Junior College.

As we continue our journey back to "dear old Bristol," we stop at Middlebury College and find Gilbert Partch playing basketball at the Field House and whom do we see as a spectator but Ruth Murphy, who has not yet decided whether she will have her life consist of State Cops or Sailor boys.

Once again we are in Bristol. We stop at the garage for gas and who should greet us but Robert Merrill, who has two telegrams for us, one from Dan Steadman in Burlington, and one from Norma Purinton, who is teaching in Idaho. We stop at Ann's for a coke where we find Richard Weaver, Jack Tudhope, Dick Rockwood, Tommy McKinnon, Claude Brassard, and Carroll Douglas home on leave from the service. It is rest period at Way's Hardware, and we spot none other than the new manager, Arthur La France, having coffee.

While talking over old acquaintances we see Mary Wisell Brassard and family walking up the street. We are told of the prominent farmer, Walter Hoag, who has established a great dairy farm just outside of Bristol.

It is satisfying, indeed, to think that the members of our dear class of '54 show great prestige in our highly competitive world today.

Paine, C. Morse, P. Craig, D. Knight.

CLASS REPORT

The Junior Class has lost a number of classmates this year, but has still retained that Bristol High School Spirit. As a result of this, we have taken on many class projects as a means of earning money. These include a food sale, a dance, and the selling of class pins and sweat shirts. We are going the limit on the Junior-Senior Prom and expect it to be the best ever. See you at the Prom.

Sophomores

OFFICERS

President - - - - - C. Tudhope	Secretary - - - - - T. Thomas

CLASS REPORT

During the year, we have sponsored one orchestra dance and a surprise box raffle. The members of the biology class, which is all sophomores, planted trees in various places out and around town. This project took one afternoon. The following pupils were elected to the Student Council: Daniel Jeffers, Ralph Prime, and Norman Partch. We are planning to go to Lake Dunmore for our class trip if nothing happens.

Freshmen

CLASS OFFICERS

President - - - -	Ronald Vincent	Secretary - - - - -	Faith Carlson
Vice President - - -	James Stanton	Treasurer - - -	Marguerite Kenyon

In addition to the above officers, we elected our Student Council members, who are Ruth Morse, Cecile Cousino, and Roland James.

We would like to thank the seniors for the initiation and the dance in the evening. We were a funny looking bunch but we had a good time.

To make money we put on the "Harvest Hop" with a turkey raffle to balance the expenses. We are planning another dance in the Spring.

Eighth Grade

CLASS OFFICERS

President - - - - - Peggy Paine
Vice President - - - - - Anne Ryan

Secretary - - - - - Sally Wisell

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The Student Council is made up of three representatives from each class in high school. From these members one from each class was chosen to attend the Vermont State Convention of Student Councils in Rutland, Vermont, for two days with our sponsor, Mr. Breen. This was the high light of our year. We hope some good ideas have come from this conference.

At present we are sponsoring the Safety Patrol, the noonhour gym activity, and some attention is given to the hot lunchrooms.

President: Shirley Purinton
